Children On Orphanage Trip Meet Disaster Upon Highway

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — A busload of children sped north along the Pacific Ocean Monday, homeward bound after a church mission to a Mexican orphanage. Then, suddenly, a blow-out tire, a series of wrenching collisions, and eight persons lay dead. Four were children, one the daughter of actors Roy Rogers and Dale Evans. About 40 persons were injured, 10 seriously. Officers said the bus was 21 years old and had no emergency exit. It was carrying 65 members of the Disciples of Christ Chapel of the Canyon Church of Canoga Park, Calif. Six miles south of San Clemente, near San Onofre Bridge, a front tire blew. The bus hurtled across the highway divider, striking seven other vehicles and finally coming to rest against a palm tree.

Tiny Invasion Of Malaysia Now In Mopping Up Stage

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Two members of an Indonesian invasion force were killed and several others captured in fresh fighting today in the Malay Peninsula's southwest coastal area, the defence ministry announced. The deaths were the first reported since the start of a small-scale seaborne attack by the Indonesians across the narrow Strait of Malacca in pre-dawn darkness Monday. The invasion was denounced here as a clear act of aggression and referred to the UN Security Council. The defence ministry said "mopping up" operation continued. Emergency measures were clamped on three coastal states after the attack, the first by Indonesia against the heartland of Malaysia. The measures empower authorities to make arrests without warrant and to shoot if necessary. Illegal possession of weapons was declared a capital crime. The Malaysian government said some 30 to 40 Indonesians, as well as several Malaysian "traitors" — took part in the landings on the west coast of

Search Ended For Lost Pilot

VANCOUVER (CP) — The search for missing pilot Delmar Alexander, 44, of Portland, was ended Monday. The RCAF said planes covered 80,000 square miles over Alexander's proposed route from Annette, Alaska, to Bellingham, Wash., and logged more than 450 flying hours. Wreckage from the single-engine plane flown by Alexander was discovered Sunday in Juan de Fuca Strait, offshore from Port Angeles, Wash. There was no sign of the pilot whom the RCAF said probably ditched his plane off Vancouver Island early on Aug. 4.

Nevada Fires Sweeping On

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — Fire officials urgently mapped a fresh assault today on five major fires sweeping through sun-cured grassland and shrubland in northeastern Nevada. There was no encouragement from the weather man, who forecast high temperatures, low humidity and possible high wind — an explosive combination. More than one dozen Nevada blazes have blackened an estimated 350 square miles of valuable grazing land since most were sparked by lightning Saturday. The burned area within a 50-mile radius of Elko was estimated at a minimum 205,000 acres.

Mine Rescue Bid Halted

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP) — Further rock bursts in the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine Monday night forced rescue workers to abandon attempts temporarily to reach two miners trapped at the 4,000-foot level by a rock burst Friday night. Eight men shifts had been working around the clock since early Monday, shoring up their way inch by inch and using only hand-tools in fear of setting off more cave-ins. A third crew had gone underground Monday and were working in the general vicinity of the initial rock burst when another occurred and the men had to return to the surface.

Prize Winner "Little Numb"

VERNON (Staff) — A woman who doesn't own a house of her own, Monday had her name drawn as the winner of the agriculture society's $10,000 house draw. However, Mrs. H. A. Iwabuchi, of Kalamalka Lake road in Vernon, will only receive about $7,000 if she answers the qualifying question. Apparently the society sold only about 2,000 tickets, not nearly enough to cover the purchase or cost of a house. Mrs. Iwabuchi's first remark on hearing her name had been drawn was, "Oh my goodness!" How did she feel about it? "Just a little numb."

RCMP IN BC FIND NO EVIDENCE THAT 2 WANTED MEN TOGETHER

KAMLOOPS (CP) — RCMP said Monday their manhunt in central British Columbia is centred on Georges Lemay and they have no evidence that he is travelling with prison escapee Adolphe Katchesky. They said police bulletins issued to news media in B.C. contained information on both men, leading to the impression that the men were together. Lemay, 39, wanted in a $100,000 Montreal bank holdup that occurred three years ago, was believed spotted buying fishing equipment near here last Tuesday. He was with another man, but the RCMP said Monday there is no evidence that the second person is Katchesky, a 44-year-old escapee from Kingston penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for armed robbery. "Katchesky may be in Eastern Canada or anywhere else," RCMP statement said. "Our investigation has centred on Lemay."

They Seek Him Here And There But Banks An Elusive Pimp

MONTREAL (CP) — Where is Hal Banks? Members of Parliament want to know. Police now want to know. A bailiff of Montreal Superior Court has wanted to know for about a month.

The barfly former president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (IU) didn't show up at a required Montreal criminal court appearance Monday. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

If he has left Canada, a justice department source in Ottawa said extradition could be sought if he is in a country with which Canada has an extradition agreement. There has been speculation—but nothing more—that Banks has gone to his native United States.

Neither Banks nor his white Cadillac have been seen since July 21 when a bailiff called at his home in suburban Pointe Claire in a vain attempt to hand him a warrant which would have him serve 30 days on a contempt charge.

The 56-year-old Banks was deposited as Canadian SIU boss of 7,500 sailors in March but remains a $20,000-a-year SIU of North America vice-president. He is out on $25,000 bail awaiting appeal this fall of his conviction and five-year sentence for conspiracy to assault a rival union officer, Henry Walsh, with intent to wound, maim and disfigure.

BAIL MAY BEAT STAKE Would his absence affect his $25,000 bail?

When Paul Martineau, Progressive Conservative MP for Pontiac — Temiscamingue, asked the question in the Commons Monday, Justice Minister cut and bruised by rocks during a five-hour disturbance Sunday night and early Monday. Two persons suffered minor gunshot wounds.

The predominantly Negro suburb of 5,000 population is two miles south of Chicago. Civil rights leaders and 40 clergymen who attempted to avert a second outbreak of violence Monday night were critical of police work, particularly the use of dog patrols to disperse the mob.

Turkey, Greece Both Warned Only To Use Planes In Defence

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has warned Greece and Turkey that Canadian-built Sabre jet fighters in the air force of those two countries must not be used for any operations over Cyprus, External Affairs Minister Martin told the Commons today. Mr. Martin said in reply to T. C. Douglas, New Democratic Party leader, that 107 Sabres had been given to each country under Canada's NATO mutual aid program on the understanding that they would be used only to strengthen the NATO power to resist aggression.

The implications of this, he said, were being brought to the attention of the governments involved.

Mr. Martin said the government does not know whether Sabres used by Turkey in attacks on Cyprus 10 days ago were Canadian-built.

In reply to Leon Baker (PC-Toronto-Riverside), Defence Minister Hellyer confirmed a Canadian Press report from Ottawa Monday that there are still a few RCAF members stationed in Turkey.

He said they were in Turkey to assist in the supply on Sabre spare parts to both the Turkish and Greek air forces.

They had been ordered to cease visits to the two air forces pending developments in the Cyprus situation. Their tours of duty would expire in any event in the next few months and there would be no replacements for them unless developments warranted.

Prime Minister Pearson said in reply to Opposition Leader Diefenbaker that Canada suggested a meeting of NATO foreign ministers to deal with the "delicate and dangerous" situation, particularly the withdrawal of Greek naval, army and air units from NATO command.

Mr. Douglas said Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, is "playing footsie" with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and asked whether there has been any progress in negotiations or broadening of the terms of reference of the United Nations force in Cyprus.

Mr. Martin said new powers for the force now are being discussed.

Mr. Martin said in reply to Douglas Harkness, former Conservative defence minister, that Canada regrets that both Greece and Turkey have found it necessary to withdraw military units from NATO command.

The matter now was being discussed in the NATO council. Mr. Martin and Mr. Hellyer repeated that Canada suspended shipments of military aid to Greece and Turkey when the Cyprus crisis first arose.

Wallace Nashitt (PC-Oxford) asked the minister to comment on a Nicola report that "large" numbers of British troops had been withdrawn from Cyprus.

Mr. Martin said he was having a meeting later today in connection with this situation and could not say anything before then.

The Nicola report said 196 British troops returned to England Tuesday.

Turkish Forces In Joint Exercise 12 Miles Off Coastline Of Island

ISKENDERUN, Turkey (AP) — Turkish warships and jet planes have begun a large-scale joint military exercise 12 miles off Cyprus, high naval sources here said today. More than 50,000 troops were under standby orders in this port city.

Newspaper men saw about 18 naval units leave port in the direction of Domuz Burnu where the manoeuvres were reported taking place. Also 22 jet fighters were seen flying past Iskenderun from the direction of Di-varbakir base toward the exercise area. The joint manoeuvres, reliable sources here said, are to end Friday.

Meanwhile, three Turkish maritime frigates under the naval command — the 12,500-ton Yorgat, the 10,000-ton Gencik and the 7,000-ton Kutahya — loaded with arms, tanks, armoured units and their personnel stood ready in port to set sail at short notice.

The 12,500-ton Amasra and the 7,500-ton Kayseri, in ballast, also joined the freighter fleet, presumably to embark troops if and when orders to do so were issued.

NICOSIA (AP) — Greece apparently is closing ranks with the Greek-Cypriot regime of President Makarios by withdrawing some Greek forces from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to help defend Cyprus.

Greece's decision Monday helped ease a strain between Athens and Nicosia. It also came as a new blow to the solidarity of the Atlantic alliance's eastern flank at a time when the Soviet Union has become embroiled in the Cyprus crisis.

Meanwhile, a Greek military source said in Athens the NATO supreme commander, Lyman Lemnitzer, appealed to Greece today not to remove its NATO eastern flank headquarters from Izmir, Turkey.

Turkey withdrew some air force planes from NATO control nine days ago, after the Greek-Cypriots charged that Turkish jet fighters took off from NATO bases to attack Cyprus.

A Greek foreign ministry statement in Athens said Greece's protests about the Turkish pullout had gone unheeded.

"Following this," the statement added, "Greece decided to withdraw the necessary army, naval and air force units assigned to the alliance."

Two UN Workers Slain In Congo GENEVA (Reuters) — Two United Nations officials were killed Monday while visiting a refugee camp at Kalongo in the Congo's Kivu province, it was announced here Monday by the UN high commissioner for refugees.

Canadian Investment Up By $1 Billion Overseas

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian-made by Canadian corporations direct investment in industries under the effective control of abroad reached an estimated $1.1 billion at the end of 1963. However, close to 40 per cent of this foreign investment was the latest review of the Canadian International Investment Commission.

U.S. Auto Industry Nears Possible Crippling Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. auto industry was a step closer to a possible crippling strike today with rejection by the United Auto Workers union of new contract proposals by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Which of the big three auto makers will be chosen as the No. 1 strike target probably will be decided at a meeting of the UAW international executive board Thursday in Chicago.

In almost identical offers Monday, the companies propose new three-year contracts for more than 500,000 production-line workers, calling for higher wages, earlier retirement and larger pensions.

The proposals — to replace agreements expiring at the end of this month — were immediately rejected by UAW bargainers as "terribly disappointing" and "miserably inadequate."

Workers at all three companies already are participating in a strike — authorization vote which is expected to gain overwhelming approval.

Such a move, strengthening the bargaining position of union negotiators, is customary as contract expiration deadlines approach.

No mention was made in the industry proposals of one of the union's top demands this year: Improved working conditions.

The union has insisted that the national agreement include two 10-minute daily breaks for workers on the assembly lines in addition to the two 12-minute breaks already allowed for personal relief.

One of the UAW's top priorities demands was included in the company proposals but was denounced as inadequate. This was a provision covering earlier retirement and increased pension benefits.

Union spokesmen said the offer failed to meet demands for more money for those workers already retired.

TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS

TORONTO (CP) — Stocks made a narrow advance in dull trading on the stock market today.
In the industrial list, gains were small as investors appeared to take a "couldn't care less" attitude. Canadian utilities were ahead 1/4 to 3/8 and Bell Telephone 1/4 to 5/8. Traders Finance A was ahead 1/4 to 1 1/2 on news of increased first-half profits. Imperial Oil tacked on 1/4 at 50 1/2 and Massey-Ferguson 1/4 at 28 1/2.
The metals continued to move ahead on a combination of excellent earnings reports by two key companies—Inco and Falconbridge—and the increasing price for copper. Inco was ahead 1/4 to 3/8 and Falconbridge 1/4 at 76 1/2. Hudson Bay climbed 1/4 to 67 1/2. Labrador the same amount to 34 1/2. Cominco 1/4 to Campbell Chibougamau was up 10 cents to $4.70.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS Reds Advise U.S. Negroes "Take To Streets And Fight"

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Broadcasts from Cuba and Red China have been advising U.S. Negroes to take to the streets in armed revolutionary violence and even guerrilla war. The Chinese claim Negro violence in the U.S. must be encouraged in the name of the "national liberation movement."

Cuba uses Radio Free Dixie and a renegade U.S. Negro, Robert F. Williams, to call for revolutionary street violence in U.S. cities.

Peking has enlisted a man called Frank Coe, a Frank Coe, once was a target of a U.S. Senate investigation for alleged spying on behalf of international communism. He was a high-paid secretary of the Literary and National Monetary Fund in the late 1940s.

Just a year ago, China's Mao Tse-tung issued a declaration urging "the world's people" — meaning the Communists — to move in on the U.S. situation. Peking now uses its advocacy of violence in the U.S. as a club in its ideological war with the Soviet Communists.

The Chinese want non-white people in Africa, Asia and Latin America to believe Peking is their only true friend. Red China is trying to shut the Russians out of Asia and take over revolutionary causes—the "national liberation movement"—in all underdeveloped areas.

Last week, to commemorate the first anniversary of Mao's declaration, a series of rallies was held in China. One speech was delivered by "American comrade Frank Coe," as Peking radio described him. He had been on hand in Peking a year before when Mao made the statement.

Coe stated that Mao's declaration was widely distributed among Negroes in the United States. He told the rally U.S. Negroes "are beginning to take more and more about armed self-defense, about fighting for freedom by any means necessary, about guerrilla warfare and civil war."

Coe said true Marxist-Leninists "advocate armed self-defense," and "taken the stand of non-violence to that of Khruushchev." He accused pro-Khruushchev Communists in America of counselling Negroes to stop their violence.

Chinese propaganda urges U.S. Negroes to form a united front.

Peking broadcasts call upon Chinese-backed Communists in the United States to send the Negro movement and mount a systematic series of parades, demonstrations, strikes, boycotts and violent uprisings with the use of weapons in American cities. They are urged to free themselves from the influence of non-violence.

Socred Winter Works "Sound" Says Minister

VICTORIA (CP)—A cabinet minister has defended the provincial government's new winter works policy and said it was aimed at mustering the "hard core" of employable men.

In previous years the province has paid 25 per cent of winter works labor costs unconditionally, and 50 per cent if welfare cases were employed.

Municipalities have complained the three month waiting hunt for hiring social assistance cases is too long and some have claimed they won't be able to find enough men that have been

NAMES IN NEWS Number Of Officers Cut Due To Integration Plan

Defence Minister Hellyer said Monday in the Commons that the total number of officers in the armed forces will be "substantially" reduced through integration.

He said that as a result of integration there now are more officers than there are officer positions to be filled. It was necessary to retire some officers before normal retirement age and it was regrettable that these included officers of the calibre of Rear-Admiral Jeffrey Brook, flag officer Atlantic Coast.

There are some men who are able to work but refuse to sign up with the National Employment Service," he said.

Mr. Campbell said there are 6,500 single employable men on social assistance and approximately another 3,500 single men. Of these, 3,451 single men live in the Vancouver area.

"The aim of the provincial government is to wipe out the hard core of able bodied people on welfare, and there are enough such people to provide a large B.C. winter works force," he said.

Last year the winter works scheme employed 1,800 men in B.C.

He broke down totals in the major pockets of single "unemployed employable" across the province as:

Greater Vancouver, 3,723; Kamloops-Vernon area, 1,024; Dawson Creek-Prince George, 585; Vancouver Island from Alberni to Victoria, 341; and Burns Lake - Prince Rupert, 208. A breakdown of married men is not available.

Effect Of Total Disarmament On North Bay Under Study

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — A group of university students has been conducting a research project since May to get some idea of the effect disarmament would have on this community of 40,000 with about 15 per cent of its labor force on the RCAF payroll.

Another Pape, 22, a graduate philosophy student of the University of Toronto, and 14 other members of the Combined Universities Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament have spent the summer here doing research. The project is entirely self-funded.

In a random selection sample of 210 North Bay residents, which Mr. Pape said was sufficient to make the sampling accurate, the group asked 48 questions.

The answers have been analyzed by a computer in Toronto.

Asked what effect the removal of military installations near here—a Bomarc missile site, an electronic Semi-Automatic Ground Environment centre, and the RCAF air station—would have on the economic welfare of the community, 86 per cent answered that it would be a disaster.

When 14 per cent answered that it would have "little or no effect."

"The military bases are the largest single contributor to the economy of the area," Mr. Pape said in an interview today.

"They are larger than the railway and the tourist industry."

"If disarmament were to come to North Bay, North Bay would suffer severely and therefore this city represents a real political obstacle to disarmament."

The survey is expected to end Aug. 28.

More Advisers In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (CP)—United States military "advisers" in South Viet Nam have grown to 16,500 and the Pentagon confirms that another 5,000 have been authorized.

Since Jan. 1, 1961, when the U.S. defence department first began issuing casualty lists, 181 of these soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines have died from "hostile" action. Eighteen are listed as missing and 1,074 have been wounded up to Aug. 10.

In addition, deaths from "non-hostile" action total 84 with two missing.

These men are members of the regular U.S. armed forces assigned to help South Vietnamese forces battle the Communist Viet Cong. Military spokesmen here are vague about their actual terms of reference but emphasize two points:

One is that the adviser's role primarily is to help train the South Vietnamese. The other is that they do not command Vietnamese troops but make recommendations and take orders from the U.S. military assistance headquarters there.

During hearing on the licence applications, J. V. Cline, chairman of MIB and Pitt said he doubted whether his company would proceed with plans unless timber was provided for future expansion of the mill.

Mr. Williston solved a similar case in June when he offered rival companies a chance to establish pulp mills in the Peace River area.

Prince Rupert Forest Move Aimed At Compromise Accord

VICTORIA (CP) — Forest Minister Williston said Monday he will divide the forest area surrounding Prince Rupert into three areas in an attempt to satisfy three companies "who want to build pulp mills in the area."

"I would like to see all three companies get something. We are looking for a compromise deal," he said.

He said the forest service is completing an inventory of timber resources in the Kitimat, Ootsa, Bulkley and Prince Rupert areas which will decide tree farm boundaries.

Mr. Williston said he is satisfied there is enough timber for three pulp mills without affecting reserves for local logging operators.

It was forecast earlier that the minister would use three different types of forests to settle the issue.

Columbia Cellulose Limited's proposed $70,000,000 kraft mill at Prince Rupert would use an undeveloped forest, opening up an area now inaccessible.

MacMillan, Blodet and Powell River Limited's $150,000,000 pulp and paper mill at Kitimat would use a dying forest, freeing the land for new timber crops.

And Bulkley Valley Pulp and Timber Limited's proposed $52,000,000 mill at Houston would be based on an under-developed forest now supplying only sawmills, encouraging use of pulpwood now used.

It is not known if the three companies involved will accept the compromise offer.

During hearing on the licence applications, J. V. Cline, chairman of MIB and Pitt said he doubted whether his company would proceed with plans unless timber was provided for future expansion of the mill.

Mr. Williston solved a similar case in June when he offered rival companies a chance to establish pulp mills in the Peace River area.

Tschombe Seeks U.S. Planes To Scout Rebel Movements

LEOPOLDVILLE (CP)—Congolese Premier Moise Tschombe has called on the United States to send his government long range scout planes so it can keep closer watch on rebel movements in the eastern Congo.

A U.S. embassy official said Tschombe's appeal, made during a talk with G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs, has been sent on to Washington. An official at the U.S. embassy here indicated there was no reason why the United States would reject the request which would come under the U.S. military technical assistance program.

The planes would be flown by U.S. pilots but they would be at the disposal of the Congolese government for deployment against rebel forces led by leftist Gaston Soumialot.

Efforts by Tschombe's new government to quell the Communist-backed revolt has been hampered by lack of knowledge of rebel military activity.

The Visitor and Convention bureau of the Kiwanis Chamber of Commerce is providing a new service for visitors.

"This week the bureau set up a telephone number which can be called for a daily schedule of things to see and do in Kiwanis. R. K. Gordon, coordinator of the bureau, said today:

Visitors or citizens can get this information any time of the day or night by phoning the number.

Monday night 1,500 cards were distributed to hotels, motels and tourist groups by the bureau. The cards give the phone number and explanation of the service.

"At present the service is still in the experimental stage, to find out if it will be of value to the visitor. The immediate reaction from motel and hotel operators has been entirely favorable and providing accurate information, it will save operators from answering numerous questions," he said.

It would be a great help to the bureau if people in charge of organizing events would notify the bureau so they can be reported," he said.

The Banff festival festival has played to full capacity houses at the Kananaskis community theatre Monday. The theatre seats 200 persons.

The appearance here was sponsored by the Kananaskis Rotary club. The company has a new and was expanded throughout the two local song programs.

The 41 students from across Canada and the United States perform after an intensive four weeks of study. The group was their final appearance before departing.

Guest artists were Eva van Genney, Montreal; Nina Aas Haggstrom, from the Royal Swedish Ballet in Stockholm; and Miss Palmer from Richmond, B.C.

Recorded students are anticipated in Kelowna and district schools as opening dates approach, Fred Macklin, secretary-treasurer of school district 23 said today.

All schools both elementary and secondary will open September 8 in the school district, he said.

Father Francis Goddard, principal of Immaculate high school said that school will open September 1. Date of the opening of St. Joseph's elementary school has not been announced.

"We are holding commencement exercises September 11, and a certain amount of preparation by the student body is required beforehand," Father Goddard said. "We will open with the same number of school days as the public school.

Christmas and Easter holidays will be longer," he said.

Enrollment at Immaculate is expected to reach 180, which is 20 more than last year and the school's capacity, Father said.

There were 2,950 students enrolled in secondary schools in school district 23 in September 1963," Mr. Macklin said.

"Also 3,602 in elementary schools, for a total of 6,552, an increase of 430 over the previous year."

Statistics show we may have a record enrolment this year, Mr. Macklin said.

"Tuesday September 8, will be a short session, with instruction beginning Sept 9," he said.

Immaculate high will have two new teachers bringing the staff up to eight full time teachers.

A vote on a new contract was held Sunday by the southern B.C. interior members of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC).

The members were voting on a settlement proposed by government conciliation officer R. S. Haguin.

The Kelowna and district union executive board of the IWA had already rejected the proposed settlement August 11th.

W. F. Schumaker, union representative, said today the members' votes haven't been counted yet, but the results will be known Sunday, August 23rd.

"We could reject it and they (the employers) could reject it, then there would have to be a government supervised strike vote," Mr. Schumaker said.

NOT DISCUSSED

Jack Muirhead of the Interior Forest Labor Relations Association, in Penticton, said today that 44 companies involved have not met yet to discuss acceptance or rejection of the proposed settlement.

He said they would meet sometime this week. He termed the situation "a knotty problem."

learn" as prices have dropped since the proposal was made.

The regional policy committee of the IWA, in Vancouver, says the proposal is the best yet obtained by the IWA in the southern interior.

The government must be notified of what both sides in the dispute decide by August 24th.

DEMAND PARITY

The IWA, throughout the southern interior, is demanding parity with the coast wages. The proposed settlement would narrow the gap.

It offers a pay boost of 37 cents an hour over three years, with a base rate of $2.26 an hour at present. The present base rate at the coast is 2.23 an hour, rising to $2.36 and hour in 1965.

The union objects to the duration of the proposed new contract. It considers it inadvisable to establish wage rates and working conditions for more than one year at a time because of rapidly changing production requirements.

The union also stated that several non-cost demands submitted in negotiations were not considered in the proposed settlement.

Okanagan Centre (correspondence) — The second annual water show by the swimming classes was held recently.

Heather Houston, 4 years old, was crowned Lady of the Lake and Linda Richards was master of ceremonies. The Green Fish welcomed the guests. They were: Kevin Campbell, Karen Hoffman, Shauna Campbell, Virginia Houston, Allison Marshall, John Davis and Trevor Marshall.

A play, "Cleopatra" was presented by Frances Dobson, Karen Dole, Nina Cook, Doreen Krebs, Bonnie Gunn and Edith Kolbe.

The Red Fish, Ricky Taylor, Kathy Vereshagin and Erin Campbell, gave a swimming demonstration to the Blue Fish. Laurie Carr, Wendy Taylor, Gail Vereshagin, Donna Morrison, Diana Surtyma and Maureen Davis, Darlene Sheridan and Mary Dobson, gave a jumping and diving show.

A swimming demonstration was given by the Gold Fish who are Heather Cook, Deggie Gunn and Jane Dobson.

A demonstration of the jack-knife and back dive was given by the advanced class who are Evelyn Johnson, Ellen Crowder, Mary Frances Dobson, Bonnie Gunn, Nina Cook and John Gable.

Mike Brow, Kelowna, who has been giving the advanced diving classes, gave a demonstration of diving.

Heather Cook and Laurie Carr were first in the kickboard relay, Diana Surtyma and Wendy Taylor were second.

Wendy Taylor was a tug of war between the boys and girls. The rope broke so everyone shared the prize, a watermelon.

Ready for a dive into the pool at Mountain Shadow Golf and Country Club is Takejiro Sueyoshi, while, from left, Masa-

Kiro, Hiranoi, Takashi Masunari, Hirokuni Koshita and Mitsuo Nohai wait their turns. Miss Jane Martin was hostess for the Japanese exchange students, who arrived in Kelowna Saturday, when they spent Monday morning at the country club. They were fast and also went horseback riding. They left Monday evening by bus for Calgary. (Counter photo)

Proposed plans and estimated costs of an indoor swimming pool have been put before the Centennial Committee.

The Indoor Swimming Pool Association of Kelowna is working toward the building of an indoor pool as Kelowna's Centennial project.

Clear skies will return to Kelowna again tonight.

An intense, sharply defined disturbance overnight produced the showers Kelowna experienced last night.

The forecast from the weather office in Vancouver says Tuesday will be cloudy with occasional showers and thunderstorms, clearing late in the evening.

Rear Admiral Michael G. Stirling, 49, of Kelowna will succeed to the post of flag officer, Pacific and Maritime Commander, Defence Minister Hellyer announced today.

He is presently chief of naval personnel at headquarters in Ottawa.

The 1966 annual meeting of the Canadian Red Cross society, provincial branch, will be held in Kelowna, Jim MacPhail said today.

Mr. MacPhail is the Okanagan regional vice president, an area that extends from Armstrong to the U.S. border.

About 125 representatives from the various regional societies are expected to attend. They will come from all parts of B.C. Also attending will be officials and the executive of the provincial society.

Although pear psylla and Mediterranean fruit flies are causing concern, crops in the Okanagan are proceeding well, the horticultural news letter said today.

The apricot harvest is in full volume in all districts, and the cherry harvest is just starting. The harvest is winding up in Oliver and almost finished in Penticton.

Harvest of a good crop of Redhaven peaches is underway in a number of districts.

A considerable drop is reported in the Kelowna prune crop.

Excellent quality early varieties of blueberries at the coast.

Cranberries are sizing rapidly at the coast.

In vegetables, cucumbers are continuing in volume in the Okanagan. Field cucumbers are available.

Fresh market harvest of tomatoes continues in the Okanagan with process harvest about two weeks away.

Cabbage volume harvest is still slow way at the coast.

Peppers are being harvested in volume in the Okanagan.

Business apples are being marketed. Transparent and other earlies are in volume at the coast. The apple crop continues to size well and is taking on good color.

In small fruits, raspberry harvest will be completed this weekend at Salmon Arm on a generally satisfactory crop and the coast crop will be winding up sometime next week.

PEACHLAND (Correspondent). — A referendum on two money by-laws will be held in the Peachland Municipal Hall on Saturday, August 29th.

The by-laws to be voted on are for the spending of $27,000 for a new municipal building and $10,000 for a new fire truck. A meeting will be held Wednesday, August 19th at 8 p.m. in the municipal hall to explain the money laws.

Only property owners are eligible to vote on money by-laws. There are 487 persons eligible to vote.

Plans for the new municipal building call for a one storey structure of brick and wood covering 2,300 square feet.

The present municipal hall, the old Presbyterian Church, which was purchased from the congregation in 1920.

The present fire truck is a converted 1952 one-ton panel purchased in 1955 by the municipality. It has a 200-gallon water tank and 750 feet of hose.

The new fire truck would have a 500-gallon tank, certain special equipment and the new hose recently purchased can be suitably adapted.

RUTLAND (Correspondent)—Three sub committee chairmen have been appointed by the Rutland Centennial Committee.

Harold Hildred is head of the project committee; Paul Bach, finance and collection; and Albert Bellet, ways and means.

The remaining directors-at-large will be divided among these three committees and will meet separately to discuss plans and problems. A meeting of the whole centennial committee will be held later.

To raise funds when a project has been selected and approved, the committee will canvass the community. In the meantime donations can be made to the Rutland Centennial Committee, c/o Box 92, Rutland.

The committee has already received a $15 cheque from the park society, and each committee chairman made a cash contribution.

The committee held a social night Sunday to help provide finances and get members better acquainted.

Dr. A. W. N. Drulitt showed slides and gave a commentary on Jamaica, where he and his family spent five years as a medical missionary.

Some 20 members attended the gathering and a smorgasbord supper was served.

Work will begin immediately on the new Royal Bank of Canada building on the north east corner of Bernard Ave. and Elms St. Alan Perley, Kelowna manager said today.

Contract was awarded to Halse-Martin Construction Co. Ltd. of Kelowna, the lowest bidder at $213,332.

Michael E. Utley of Kelowna, has been appointed supervising architect.

"Subtractors are also from Kelowna," Mr. Perley said "but as yet I haven't been notified who they are."

Designed by the architectural department of the Royal Bank in Montreal, the 30 by 91 foot building will be faced with precast textured colored facing panels.

The building will have double doors off Bernard Ave. and off Elms St. with glass on either side. Glass is also used above the Bernard Ave. entrance to light the mezzanine floor.

There is a plate above the doors with the words "Royal Bank of Canada" and windows have aluminum decorative solar screens.

"Royal Bank" will be in 18 inch high illuminated channel letters and both entrances will have the bank emblem Hulse-Martin also.

The ground floor will be terraced to the public space and vinyl asbestos tile elsewhere. It will contain the manager's office, vaults, a slight depositary unit and staff work areas as well as the customer area.

The mezzanine floor above will contain archives, staff area and ceramic tile washrooms.

The building will occupy the lot space to the sidewalk on Bernard Ave. and Elms with parking space provided towards the rear lane.

The new bank will be air conditioned and have hot-water base board heating.

The lot on Bernard Ave., and Elms St. was previously owned by Standard Oil Company which had two gas stations built there dating back to the 1920's. Both were demolished the first one when the second was built.

Time Past For Talking; Need Action On Flag

The great Canadian flag debate drags on in the House of Commons. Some 64 speeches, or more, have now been made on the subject. In the issue of Hansard, August 12th, eight speakers took up 26 pages to air their views, to the utter boredom of other members and the Canadian people.

It is therefore refreshing to note that at least one member appreciates that Canadians generally are fed to the teeth with the flag debate; that the majority now could not care less about the flag design, but at the same time are becoming increasingly irritated by the apparently everlasting talk and the consequent loss of time for constructive legislation. And, too, they blame no one party, but all.

Mr. Ron Basford, of Vancouver-Burrard, has stated flatly that, as a result of having just visited his riding, he has decided not to speak in the flag debate. He goes further and appeals to his fellow members in the House to return to sanity and refrain from prolonging the debate by useless chatter.

Mr. Basford points out that the flag issue has been a matter of public controversy and debate for almost three months. The members in the House have discussed it backwards and forwards, up and down. He says that from his own personal views, from discussions in party caucus, from the debates which have already been carried on, from letters from and conversations with his constituents, he has certainly long since made up his mind on all aspects of the flag issue and knows precisely how he will vote.

He says he is sure all other members have also decided the issue in their own minds. "Any member of Parliament, who at this point hasn't formed an opinion on every aspect of the question must simply have been unconscious for the past two months," he says. And with that statement most Canadians will agree.

Certainly everything that could be said about a flag has already been said; every thought that could be expressed has already been expressed and all further debate on this issue is simply a waste of parliamentary time and of the taxpayers' money.

Mr. Basford has said rightly that "Now is the time when silence by MPs is golden," and all members will be doing greater service to their ridings and to their country by allowing Parliament to make a decision on all aspects of the flag issue so they can get on with other important business.

Two weeks ago, about, Mr. Diefenbaker made an appeal to the nation to write to all MPs in support of one particular flag. Mr. Basford suggests that the people of this country should, regardless of their sentiment for one particular flag design, write to their members to tell them to stop talking and decide the issue once and for all, one way or the other, so that a matter which has been disrupting this nation for 96 years can, once and for all, be put to rest.

And to Mr. Basford's appeal, we add a loud "Amen!"

Parking Meters

Some weeks ago comment was made in these columns that some cities in the United States were taking out their parking meters. Now the B.C. Automobile Association points out that parking meters are being abandoned by a number of smaller U.S. cities.

The BCAA says that a recent survey by the American Municipal Association reveals that 49 cities in 20 states have removed more than 19,000 meters since 1959.

Roughly three out of four meters were taken from on-street positions in business districts, 15 per cent from off-street municipal lots and the remainder from on-street spots out of the business district.

In commenting on this trend away from meters, a BCAA official said:

"Underlying the trend is increased competition between older downtown merchants and the outlying shopping centres. Mass transit's decline in smaller cities has taken away some steady downtown customers who now drive. Free parking at the shopping centre is a big factor but not the only one. Shopping centres arise and efficiently accommodate increased shopper mobility. They additionally offer more quality in terms of appearance, service and certain kinds of merchandise. Older downtown business districts, particularly in the smaller communities, should face up to the advantages of their new competitors."

Cheering Note

If any good at all can come out of such a situation as that now existing in Cyprus, the one bright spot in this incident is the obvious desire of the Soviet Union to avoid participation in this conflict.

Greece had expected the Soviet to Russia made no such move. Rather come rushing to its support but instead than giving Greece moral and physical support Russia wrote a sharp note — to both Greece and Turkey.

It is more than probable that this rebuff from Russia was the primary reason that Greece adopted a surprisingly conciliatory attitude following the Turkish aerial attack on Cyprus.

Events in both North Viet Nam and Cyprus during the past few days have demonstrated that none of the large powers wishes to provoke a war at this time. Red China, as was to be expected made bellicose remarks following the American reprisal raid on North Viet Nam. Russia in this instance and not surprisingly was strangely silent. The United States made it very clear that it intended no further punitive action than the one raid.

At any other time in history, either of these incidents would have provoked a general war. The fact neither has is an encouraging note. It may be that the big powers appreciate that no one wins a war and that certainly no one will win the next one.

Democracy Gains Slowly In Venezuelan Politics

Castro-inspired terrorism is gradually being cleared from the oil-rich South American republic of Venezuela. In this story, Paul Kidd, an expert on Latin American affairs, reports on the progress of the anti-terrorist campaign.

CARACAS (CP) — The day I arrived in Caracas, the white skyscraper — studded capital of Venezuela, two municipal police agents, Jesus Gomez and Carlos Becerra, pitched to the ground. Minutes later both were dead.

Two days after the gunning, terrorists blew up a highway bridge 70 miles from Caracas. In another part of Venezuela, one person was injured when a hand grenade was hurled at a National Guard checkpoint.

The three incidents were prominently reported on the front pages of Caracas newspapers. Nine months ago, however, they would have been treated as routine news.

For such acts of violence by the Communist, pro-Castro Armed Forces of National liberation—known as the FALN—were then everyday occurrences.

Today they are not. Terrorism has not disappeared from the political battleground that is Venezuela. But it is fighting a rear-guard action against the forces of democracy in this oil-rich South American republic.

NO LONGER AFRAID

After five years of terrorism, a lull has settled over the country. And its 8,100,000 citizens are beginning to adjust to living without fear.

Caracas, framed in a valley of mist-bathed mountains, is peaceful. Policemen no longer hug the walls but stand unhelmeted in the middle of the streets. Ever-vigilant armored cars and tanks are tucked away, silent and out of sight, in their depots.

Only in the Bachiller mountains, 75 miles from Caracas, is the war between the government and terrorists going on.

There, crack troops are striving to mop up guerrilla bands operating from scattered hide-outs. No one knows how many rebels are holding out in the rugged, jungle-covered countryside, but they are believed to number no more than 400.

The terrorists, reported by the government to have been partly financed, trained and equipped by Fidel Castro's Cuba, make sporadic raids on small towns and villages.

FLY INTO HILLS

During such raids, they attack police stations and political party headquarters, seizing guns and scrawling Communist slogans on walls. Then, as government forces advance, the terrorists flee back into the hills.

With virtually no support from peasants in the Bachiller region, the FALN guerrillas are becoming increasingly isolated and hard-pressed.

But although the threat of violence is declining, troops continue to guard such strategic installations as factories, oil company properties, airports, bridges, tunnels and government offices.

The memory of FALN terrorism, which preceded the December elections, is still vivid. FALN forces destroyed more than $10,000,000 worth of property, mostly U.S.-owned. Creole Petroleum Corporation pipelines were blown up and Sears Roebuck warehouses were set

60 POLICE KILLED

For weeks, terrorists kept their pledge to "kill a cop a day." Sixty policemen, at least, lost their lives. And almost every day, bullets screamed into crowded plazas, sometimes injuring or killing women and children.

The FALN vowed that President Romulo Betancourt would never finish his five-year term, and warned Venezuelan voters that they would be killed if they went to the polls to choose a successor to Betancourt, who, by law, could not succeed himself.

Betancourt replied by ordering the military to go all out against the FALN.

Tanks crawled through Caracas' hillside slums, policemen blasted rebel strongholds with bazookas and National Guardsmen set up road blocks at strategic intersections.

By the time the elections took place — on schedule — Betancourt had won his battle with the FALN.

Risking bullets, Venezuela's voters answered the terrorists' threats. Standing in line for up to three hours, a record 93 per cent of the electorate went to the polls. And Betancourt completed his full term as president.

Today, there is little doubt, democracy is winning in Venezuela.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Sir:

We have visited the Okanagan Zoo for the first time and we are most enthusiastic. Like many Kelownians we tend to pass our Zoo with an apology, where we should show pride and admiration. It is one of the cleanest and certainly the most entertaining zoos we have seen.

Johnny Miller (part owner and manager) has many of the wild animals trained. Where else can you find a monkey that smokes, a lion that roars on command, a coyote that sings when asked, etc?

To say that we were delighted with our trip to the Zoo is putting it mildly. And we feel that all Kelowna and district would feel the same if only they got out and saw for themselves.

Yours sincerely,

OTTAWA REPORT

Dignity, Farce Draws Crowds

By PATRICK NICHOLOSON
Daily Courier Ottawa Bureau

The contrasting appeals of dignity and farce on Parliament Hill are attracting record crowds, and making Ottawa perhaps the Number One tourist Mecca in Canada.

It is predominantly a road-borne invasion. The densest parking of vehicles comes each morning, when the Guards and the bands in their scarlet tunics enact the ceremony of Changing the Guard; but the line-up is also the Parliament Building are longest when the Speaker's Procession marks the opening of the Commons, usually just after lunch.

The average man's sedan, the ostentatious limousines, the mini-cars, the jolopies, the convertibles and especially the chartered buses, all come; as their license plates indicate, our visitors come from every province and state in North America and even from more distant countries. Quite often we see the motor caravan of some "be prepared" tourist, who tortoiselike carries his roof with him; but the huge house trailers, these are not welcomed on Parliament Hill, but the smaller self-propelled "motor-cars."

EVERYMAN'S MOTOR HOME

The motor-car in greatest favor with tourists this year is the ordinary half-ton truck with a caravan-cabin piggy-backed onto it. This is especially handy and cheap for the many Canadians who have a half-ton truck for their farm or business. The cabin costs around $1,800—with extras optional. It can be conveniently fitted onto or taken off the truck. One popular model has telescopic legs, on which the cabin can be jacked up so that the truck can be driven away or reloaded. They are surprisingly roomy and comfortable inside. A large bed, 48" wide and 7' or near that in length, fits snugly across the roof of the driver's cabin on the truck. The body of the cabin has a four-seater dining nook and table, which converts to make a double bed. Cooking stove and refrigerator may be gas-fired or electric. External connections enable the cabin to plug into electricity and water supplies at a camp site.

One tourist, who showed me over his toy motor-car, agreed that its weight made the driving of his truck a little heavier and slower than usual, but he stressed the advantages of economy and mobility.

TOUR OF THOMSONLAND

There was one of these truck-cavans parked on Parliament Hill this week which attracted everyone's attention, because it proudly wore a vivid multi-colored dado of "Decals," from more than 50 Canadian communities, pasted neatly along each side.

The owner, it seemed, had made a coast-to-coast tour of those cities and towns where Thomson Newspapers are published, if his collection of Decals really represents his travels. From Penitence in B.C. he had travelled eastward through Moose Jaw, Port Arthur, Sudbury, Barrie, Sarnia, Chatham, Port Colborne, Ottawa, Cornwall and Quebec City to Charlottetown.

Decals are the status symbols of today's car traveller, just as metal plaques nailed onto his spoked mountain shoes are the joy of the Alpine walker and colored labels mark the suitcase of the world traveller. These all depict some typical scene, as Penitence's decal shows water-sheders. Sudbury's picture a Mountie, Barrie shows the angler's prize bass. Quebec City is represented by the civic coat of arms—and Charlottetown strangely shows that familiar fish from Barrie—or its twin from nearby came the most artistic of this collection of decals: Cavendish, P.E.I., showing the house so familiar to readers—Green Gables.

Decals often appear on car windows, especially the back window—dangerous and vulgar; but this big group was charming.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Muscle Can Be Pain In Neck

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain sciatica anticus syndrome?—G. T.

The anterior scalene muscle is one which lies deep in the neck. It runs from the neck vertebrae to the first rib. It is, in fact, the muscle we use when we want to bend the neck forward.

Since it is so deeply placed, it can under certain circumstances put pressure on certain nerves emerging from the spinal cord, or even more commonly, press on the deep arteries of the neck under the collarbone.

The consequences? Discomfort in the arm. This may be tingling, numbness or blanching of the arm—an interruption in control of the circulation. This is one of the various causes for the fairly common complaint of tingling and numbness of hands and fingers. (This isn't the first thing a doctor thinks of, when tingling is the complaint, but it is one which sometimes turns out to be the answer.)

There are two things you can do to ease the discomfort. First avoid sleeping with an arm up over the head, as this increases the tension. Second, avoid pulling your chin down toward the collarbone area. If the problem is severe enough to require surgical treatment, this is possible by freeing the muscle to some extent at the point at which it is attached to the rib.

Dear Dr. Molner: Our daughter, 15, who is always worrying about her weight, has developed the disgusting habit of sticking something down her throat to make herself vomit every time she feels she has over-eaten. This has been going on for seven months now. We tell her this forced vomiting would lead to a hernia or cancer but she doesn't pay much attention to us.—MRS. I. W.

Now I've heard everything. But the things women-agers will think up never cease to amaze me.

It boils down to the fact that she has a terribly warped concept of weight control and she needs professional help. Start with your regular physician. Let him decide whether she is or isn't overweight. If she is, he can explain how she ought to control it. If she isn't, that ought to help her quit this repugnant practice. Many teenage girls think they are overweight when they aren't. (While others think they aren't, and are.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Please settle an argument between my husband and me, and also some of our friends. Is a woman fertile only one day of the month, or can she become pregnant everyday?—MRS. V. R.

Pregnancy can occur undoubtedly during days when the ovum or egg is present. It has not been possible to prove exactly how long this interval is, but, like other things, it varies among women, and also according to unpredictable circumstances.

Both the male sperm and the ovum have something of a survival time, but this probably varies, too. It is perhaps possible that intercourse can occur before the woman is fertile—yet pregnancy can result because of sperm remaining active for a time and fertilizing an ovum which appears later. This survival time isn't that long. It's about 48 hours for each. Hence fertility can't be pinpointed to one day. The fertile period is about two weeks before the succeeding cycle.

The Ontario government has ordered a royal commission investigation into circumstances surrounding the erratic trading in shares of Windfall Oil and Mines Ltd., on the Toronto Stock Exchange during July and early August. Graph shows closing prices for the stock during the period. Windfall, which closed at 64 cents July 2, rose in hectic speculative trading based on rumors of favorable results from diamond drill exploration in the Timmins, Ont., area, site of recent valuable copper strikes. Windfall reached its top closing price of $5.20 July 20 and was selling at $4.15 July 23 when the company announced assays indicated no commercial ore had been found. The price dropped to $1.04 the next day and Windfall closed at 78 cents Friday, Aug. 7.

Senior Citizen Celebrates Her Ninety-Fifth Birthday

By Margaret Kneale
of the Daily Courier Staff

Mrs. Gertrude Dudley celebrated her 95th birthday on Friday, with a team of memory of her 50 years in Dawson Creek, B.C.

Mrs. Dudley was born in Alameda, Calif. in 1894. She and her husband moved to the Yukon valley when San Francisco had the big fire and the Titanic sank.

When she moved to the Dawson Creek area with her family in 1917 to homestead, there were two places there, but the railroad wasn't in.

FRIGHTENED IN
"We got some of our supplies from those stores—if they had anything, it all had to be brought in, but we went down to Prince George for our food and most of our groceries," she said.

She talked about the wonderful root crop gardens they could grow on their homestead, weather permitting.

"We arrived in Dawson Creek at the end of September. The weather was lovely up to December 1st, then it started to turn cold and snow. Christmas day it was 54 below zero. When we moved out to the homestead in April, the ground was still frozen solid."

"We planted crops that year, but it rained and snowed in July. Our crops were smashed to the ground and frozen, but we were able to get hay for the horses for the winter," she said.

ALL HELPED
"The neighbors all helped each other then. My neighbor would come and help me cook when the threshers came. There might be a crew of six and they would camp in my living room in their bedrolls."

"Four and six horse teams used to haul the sleds of sacked grain to Spirit River. They could make the round trip in a week if all went well. If it got too cold of course, they would stop at a house along the way as the horses couldn't breathe very cold air."

Mrs. Dudley remembers, in the early 1900's when the grasshoppers were so bad at Port St. John they ate the rhubarb and the potatoes as they came out of the ground. She said this happened for three years, then they went and haven't been back since.

MOVED TO DAWSON
When her husband died in 1938, Mrs. Dudley moved from the homestead into Dawson Creek. She took in one boarder and several table boarders.

MRS. GERTRUDE DUDLEY

"I used to charge them 35 cents a meal at first, but had to increase the price as prices rose. When I wanted to make apple pie, I always used to use dried apples from Kelowna, they always seemed the best and we could never get fresh fruit there," she said.

Mrs. Dudley had six children, three sons and three daughters, one son and two daughters are still living.

Friday she received flowers and telegrams from relatives and friends in a wide variety of places.

Flowers came from her son, Maxwell Dudley, in Salmon, Marietta Island, her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Smith of Olympia,

AROUND TOWN

One of the most fun parties of the Regatta week was the Corned Beef and Beans Party held at the Lakeside home of David Chapman on Saturday evening. A huge bonfire blazed on the beach, an enormous quantity of barbecued hot dogs were consumed, and a wonderful evening was enjoyed by the young people who were chaperoned by Miss Kitty Stanley-Rees of the Regatta and Aquatic Ladies Auxiliary.

A barbecue and dance was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carl Bries in Cass Louis when retiring Lady of the Lake Carol Wood and her placewife Brenda Bries and Shanna Peterson were hostesses in honor of the new Kelowna Regatta, the 1964 candidates and their escorts on Saturday evening.

News And Items From Westbank

WESTBANK — Beach parties boating and fishing, a corn roast, the Regatta and visits to the Summerland Experimental Station and to the fish hatchery all were enjoyed by the five 4-H Club members from northern B.C. who were entertained last week by Orchard Meadows 4-H Club in Westbank and Lakeview Heights. They were Merle McGuire from Doe River, who was the guest of Connie Currie, while Connie's mother, Mrs. A. Currie, entertained chaperon Mrs. Lester Erickson, of Pouce Coupe, Judy Biew and Martha Erickson from Pouce Coupe, were guests of Lakeview Heights 4-H members Cathy Guidi and Cathy Reed respectively, while Club president Geoffrey Paynter entertained Stephen Erickson of Pouce Coupe, and George DeChief, of Bay Tree Alta.

Altogether, 15 boys and girls from Dawson Creek area were billeted in this and Kelowna areas, and next year the visit will be returned by beef, calf and dairy Club members from Orchard Meadows and other local clubs.

Donna McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan McLeod, of Scottish Cove, is receiving congratulations on winning the Pacific Northwest water-skiing championship at the Kelowna Regatta. A junior, Donna entered the ladies class for the reason that no other class was open to her.

Congratulations also are due Donna's brother, Jimmie, who placed third in the Okanagan closed water-skiing class.

George Pringle High students as well as all residents in Lakeview Heights and Westbank, are voicing their pride in the fact that Judy Orsi, of Lakeview Heights, was chosen 1964-65 Lady-of-the-Lake.

Here from Wausau, Wis. for a brief visit last week were Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Campbell and daughter, Lois, who were guests of Miss Grace Hewlett and her brother, A. E. Hewlett. Motor-ing from Kamloops, they were accompanied by Miss Cathy Hewlett, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hewlett, of the hub city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Atkins, of Vancouver, were Regatta visitors last week, staying at Capri Motor Inn and visiting Westbank friends during their stay.

Miss Wendy Dobbin, of Vancouver, was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dobbin, returning to the coast Sunday.

Motoring to the coast at the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hewlett, who have been staying with the former's sister, Mrs. David Gellatly.

Westbank and Regatta visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lorimer, of Calgary. Accompanying them from the Alberta city were Mrs. Clara McKinnon and Mrs. Jean Lorimer, both of Kenton, Man. While in Westbank they were guests of Mrs. McKinnon's brothers, J. A. and William Ingram.

Holidaying here from Seattle are Mr. and Mrs. William Boyle and family, who are guests of Mrs. Boyle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thompson.

Arriving home at the weekend and from a three weeks holiday was Miss Grace Hewlett, whose travels took her as far north as Hudson Hope and east to Edmonton.

ANN LANDERS

Personal Criticism Can Be Hurtful

Dear Ann Landers: My father is a wonderful person and I love him very much but he makes such insulting remarks to my friends I'm afraid no girl or boy will want to set foot in our house if he keeps it up.

Dad is a carpenter. Mom says all carpenters are blunt by nature and that dad has a stinging kind of humor, besides. She says I shouldn't pay any attention to him.

Yesterday Dad told my girl friend she was getting mighty fleshy—that her dress was too tight and she looked like a Polish sausage. Tonight he told my date (first time out with him and I'll bet it's my last) that if he didn't wear his pants legs a little looser he might get varicose veins.

If you can help me I will be very much indebted to you.

NANCY
Dear Nancy: Since your father is a carpenter tell him he ought to measure to measure once and saw twice.

Critical remarks of a personal nature can be hurtful, even though they are intended as a joke. Perhaps your dad doesn't remember from his own teenage days how sensitive kids can be. Ask him to please take it easy on your friends.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are having an argument about what to name our second child. Our first baby was a girl. We named her after my husband's mother because he insisted on it.

Our second child is a boy. I want to name him after my father but my husband has different ideas. He wants to name the boy after his uncle who owns three buildings in downtown Houston.

We are also having trouble over a middle name. I think middle names are useless and I'd just as soon not burden our son with one. Will you come to the rescue and settle this squabble? — LANDERS FAN

Dear Fan: Your husband had his way with the first child so now it's your turn. Name the baby after your father.

Middle names are not exactly useless—especially if the name is connected with three buildings in downtown Houston. Besides, what are you going to yell out the door when you mean business and want the boy to come home?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl, 20, almost out of my mind because of the unhappiness I have caused my parents as well as myself.

I started to go with an older man I met on a bus. Nick was very romantic and talked about marriage. My folks did not like him and said so from the beginning. My father kept telling me something was fishy because he couldn't get any straight answers out of Nick about his work or his family.

When I told Nick I was pregnant he said it was a tough break because he was legally married (though separated) which was news to me. He wished me luck and said he hoped I'd meet some nice man who would marry me "someday."

I became hysterical and ill and I lost the baby.

I think about Nick all the time I'm still in love with him even though he has treated me rotten and I have not even heard from him in over four weeks. I need your help. —STARDUST

Dear S. D. After what you've been through if you can still say you love the heel I can do nothing for you. People who enjoy punishment are sick and need to see a head doctor.

Tomboy Princess Potential Beauty
LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne, 14 Saturday, has emerged as a potential beauty.

Once a toothy tomboy, the blonde princess clearly is past the ugly duckling stage. Every day she gets more like her mother, Queen Elizabeth.

Anne's biggest pre-birthday thrill was to star as the only girl in the 17-man crew of Prince Philip's yacht Bloodhound.

Anne also shares her mother's interest in horses and is a fearless rider. She already has finished in the show jumping prize lists.

As fourth in line to the British throne, Anne already has performed the occasional public function which will be her regular lot once school is over.

Basically she's a country girl, with hunting and fishing high on her list of pleasures. Westerns are her favorite TV programs.

Until last year her education was confined to the schoolroom at Buckingham Palace, where she shared a tutor with two young friends of the Royal Family.

Now, setting a precedent for royal daughters, she goes to school in a girls' school set in 200 acres of Kentish parkland.

Rutland Residents Have Many Guests

Spending By Corporations Booms And Increases Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—The boom in corporations' capital spending is stepping up its pace in the United States.

Big outlays for new plant and equipment were announced this week by companies in metals, chemicals, utilities and other fields.

The accelerated spending was attributed to benefits from the income tax cut and good business in general.

Raytheon Metals Co., an aluminum producer, announced a four-year $100,000,000 program of plant additions and improvements. Additions of technical improvements will be made to several of the company's existing mining, alumina, reduction and fabricating facilities.

Bethlehem Steel Co. will undertake a new $30,000,000 program which will boost its capital spending budget for 1954 to a record $350,000,000. The latest allocation will go for a tunneling line at the Sparrows Point, Md., plant, added facilities for the production and shipping of structural steel shapes and the installation of blast time facilities at the Lackawanna works near Buffalo, N.Y., and railway steel manufacturing facilities at Johnstown, Pa.

HEAVY SPENDING

The American Gas Association announced the U.S. gas industry will spend $7,200,000,000 on construction in the next four years. In 1954, alone, it said, gas utilities and pipeline companies expect to spend $1,800,000,000 on new construction.

Spending on construction of all types should reach a record $87,000,000,000 in 1954, predicted Johns-Manville Corp., producer of building materials.

Steel mills operated last week at the fastest pace since late June, turning out 2,300,000 tons.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

A stimulating day! Much can be accomplished if you put forth your best efforts and cooperate with business associates and superiors. In fact, earning the good will of superiors could put you in the way of winning some unexpected benefits—and enduring ones, at that.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you have every reason to be optimistic about this new year in your life, even though some of the blessings promised may not be immediately evident. Look for an upturn in job and business matters in November, December, next March and April. And, where finances are concerned, a most profitable period throughout September and October. There is one admonition here, however. In your optimism over the turn of events, don't plunge in November and December. And, above all, don't

SCAMPING SCATBACK TYPIFIES ARGOS' DETERMINATION

Starry Argos scampback, Sherman Lewis (16), is chased by a pair of Ottawa Rough Riders as he scampers for yardage at the Argos' premier 1964 performance at the CNE stadium recently. Taking up the chase are Don Bates (60) and Mike Blum (20). Though Argos were sloppy in some categories, they had an impressive air of determination, which gave them a 23-21 victory. They acquired the decisive points in the closing minutes. In fact the touchdown came in the last 12 seconds.

Record Broken As Eskimos Lose

CALGARY (CP)—Bill Mitchell, a rangy Canadian centre for Edmonton Eskimos, set a professional football record Monday night with a 58-yard field goal. His team had less success as it dropped a 39-6 Western Football Conference decision to Calgary Stampeders.

The boot bettered a kick of 54 yards by Bert Rechichar of Baltimore Colts of the National Football League against Chicago Bears in 1953.

The Canadian record of 55 yards was set Aug. 7 by George Fleming of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in a game against Saskatchewan Roughriders. The previous mark of 48 was held by Fleming and Don Sutherland of Hamilton.

The Stampeders vaulted into a second-place tie with Saskatchewan Roughriders on the strength of the win.

It was the third straight loss for the rebuilding, rookie-laden Eskimos.

Mitchell, 27, a graduate from the University of Western Ontario, is in his second season with the Eskimos. He was traded to Edmonton by Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Conference as one of the players sent West in exchange for Jackie Parker.

Stampeders lost one of their most valuable halfbacks, Jim Dillard. A crowd of 14,000 watched as Dillard was dropped after a five-yard run and then helped from the field favoring his right ankle.

FIND BONE BROKEN
Club doctors said one bone was broken and Dillard should be out for at least two months. Coach Bobby Dobbs said he does not have a ready replacement.

Calgary added 179 yards rushing to their 248-yard air attack to amass a total offense of 427 yards, compared to an Eskimo total of 135 yards, 62 on the

Labatts Outing At Penicton May Be Swan Song For 1964

Kelowna Labatts hit the road which sidelined him for two weeks for Penicton Wednesday night.

Bud Englesby, who threw a fine game again in their last encounter here, is expected to start on the hill again for Labatts. Penicton will probably counter with Larry Webster or Jim Terbasket.

If Kelowna wins and keeps their playoff hopes alive, the fourth game will be played at Elk's Stadium Saturday night and the fifth, if necessary, back at Penicton the following Wednesday. The winner then moves on to meet the idle Kamloops Lelanders. The pennant winners eliminated Vernon Luckies in three straight games.

Short Increases NL Stature Pitches Phils To 8-1 Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chris Short, hidden in the shadow of Sandy Koufax, pitched a five-hitter Monday night, posting his 12th victory and lowering his earned run average to a brilliant 1.91, as Philadelphia Phillies stretched their National League lead to five games over San Francisco Giants by walling Chicago Cubs 8-1.

This season Short has been one of the top left-handers in the league, but has been overshadowed by Koufax's brilliant work for Los Angeles. Short has hit the 12-victory mark for the first time in his major league career and is second only to Koufax among National League starters in the vital earned-run department.

Short's victory gave the Phillies their biggest bulge of the season over the Giants, who were idle.

Only two other games were scheduled in the league Monday. Charlie Smith hit two homers and Dennis Ribant pitched a four-hitter as New York Mets whipped Pittsburgh Pirates 5-0 and St. Louis Cardinals made the most of two errors by Houston, scoring three runs in the

NEVER USE AN IRON ON LIZARD'S BACK

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Should a golfer be penalized for picking up a golf ball which lands on the back of a blue-tongued lizard?

No, ruled golf club officials at York, a farming town 60 miles east of here.

It was Mrs. Ruth Hindley who made the controversial shot.

The ball came to rest on the spine of the reptile, which continued to slumber.

After lengthy consultations with officials, Mrs. Hindley flicked off the ball and played on.

Benefit Sought For Grid Injury

DALLAS (AP)—Can a professional football player collect workmen's compensation for an injury suffered in a game?

That question, an apparently unprecedented one for Texas, could be answered by a suit filed Monday by Kenneth Frost of Franklin, Tenn., former defensive tackle for Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Frost's suit asks that he be paid $7,000 under the state's workmen's compensation laws for an injury received in a game against Los Angeles Rams in September, 1962.

Frost claims he suffered a permanent knee injury.

Loseth Snuffs Rally Royals Lead Series

Close decisions continue to be the order of the day in Kelowna and district Softball League playoffs. Monday night proved no exception as Royal Anne Royals snuffed out a ninth inning Willow Inn Willow's threat, to cap a 4-3 victory.

Royals now lead the semi-finals series two games to one.

A superb pitching performance by Gib Loseth carried Royals to the win. Showing only brief weakness in the early part of the ninth—which allowed the third Willow's run—he recovered and retired the side.

TWO-RUN HOMER

Loseth gave up only four hits, one a two run homer by his pitching opponent, Wally Sehn, in the third. The four bagger came after Ed Hoffman opened the inning with a single.

Shortstop, Reg Marlett, picked up the other two Willow's hits, both singles.

Sehn managed only five hits off an equally effective Sehn. The veteran Willow's hurler scattered five singles. Two of them in the bottom of the third along with an error and a hit batsman resulted in two runs.

Tom Hamanishi was picked by the pitch, stole second, made third on Wayne Horning's infield hit after Boris Kabatoff was thrown out at first, he scored when first baseman, Ian Angus' throw was wide at the plate. Richard Bullock followed.

MOVE ANKAD

In the seventh with one out, Horning and Kabatoff walked. Bullock followed with his second single of the night counting Horning. Loseth was safe on Ed Kielbaski's high throw to second in a force attempt. Kabatoff raced home on the play.

In the thrilling ninth inning climax, Wedder walked, went to second on a wild pitch, Marlett singled, Wedder held at third. He scored on another wild pitch. Marlett held at second. Loseth came back to the catcher Adrian Reiger. Wayne North drove left fielder Nick Bullock back to the fence for his liner and pinch-hitter Eugene Knorr grounded out to end the game.

Sparkling fielding plays were turned in by both clubs. Wedder made a fine running grab, in foul territory, of a hard attempt in the sixth. Next inning, Royals' Ed Sehn robbed North's bid for a base hit when he jumped to his line drive.

Next game is Wednesday night at 6:30 in King's Stadium.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that the improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

Consistency paid off for Saskatchewan. Behind Rever was Ed Hoas of Saskatchewan with a well-planned 71. Ernie Greeney of Regina and Jim Scissons of Saskatchewan had 77s.

Behind the three leading teams came British Columbia and Quebec with 304, Nova Scotia 305, Manitoba 307 and a combined New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island team at 318.

British Columbia was led by Johnny Johnston of Vancouver with 74. Bob Kidd of Vancouver reported a 74, but he later was penalized two shots for moving a ball improperly on the fifth hole.

Olympics Bar South Africa Because Of Apartheid Policy

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (Reuters)—The International Olympic Committee officially announced here today that South Africa has been barred from the 18th Olympic Games in Tokyo because it has refused to disassociate itself from apartheid (racial segregation) in sport.

The move followed repeated appeals by the committee to South Africa to get rid of discrimination in sport or be banned from the Olympics in October.

South Africa replied to the latest appeal last week by saying it could not comply with the segregation-free conditions set by the IOC.

During the Inter-Olympics in Innsbruck, Austria, in January the IOC withdrew South Africa's invitation to the games and ruled it could compete only if it made a public declaration renouncing racial discrimination in sport.

At Lausanne in June, the IOC executive board gave South Africa another 50 days to make the declaration.

But Frank Bruu, president of the South African Olympic committee, last week informed the IOC that the South African committee did not intend to change its attitude.

South African sports officials said that to fulfill the IOC conditions would mean a virtual denial of the government's policy of apartheid.

The South African committee had to decide before last Sunday, the time limit for team lists of competing nations to reach Tokyo.

Ottawa Good During Pre-Season

OTTAWA (CP)—If exhibition schedules meant anything, Ottawa Rough Riders could count on shellacking Winnipeg Blue Bombers tonight.

In the four games before the schedule started, Ottawa scored 99 points and allowed only 34. In the process they drubbed Winnipeg 25-7.

But after those four triumphs, they swagged into Toronto for the Eastern Conference opener and lost 23-21. Their subsequent 13-10 victory over Hamilton Tiger Cats has not removed the nagging fear that the pre-season spree was just a dream.

When Winnipeg met Ottawa July 20, the Bombers were playing for the first time. Ottawa already had beaten B.C. Lions 21-8.

Winnipeg started its season with a 10-10 tie against British Columbia, then dropped a 37-22 decision to Saskatchewan and lost 37-7.

When Ottawa met the same Eskimos in an exhibition play, the result was a 32-20 win for Riders. Yet, that was a far better result than the hapless Eskimos have had in any of their regular season games. They've gone down 32-15 and 39-6 to Calgary.

Durocher In Focus After Alleged Incident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deputy city attorney Monday scheduled a full scale hearing of a baseball fan's claim that Los Angeles' Dodger coach Leo Durocher hit him on the jaw Sunday night.

Attorney Robert O. Young said the Aug. 26 hearing will be to determine if a battery complaint should be issued on a statement signed by Robert Halliworth of suburban Downey.

Halliworth, 39, said Durocher hit him in a parking lot at Dodger Stadium after Sunday night's doubleheader with St. Louis Cardinals.
